Reading the Current Issue

"Comets Down Rocky River in Final Conference Game," "Upperclassmen Cavort Socially with Bunny Hop," "Sophs Top Honor Roll" . . . these are just a few of the headlines that appeared in this year's Record. The Record has been publishing Amherst High School news for more than 30 years. The newspaper, which comes out every six weeks, is planned and made up by the editors with the help of the advisor. Each member of the editorial staff covers a special beat, and then on the assigned day submits his stories. After the proof reader and the typists have completed their work, the Record goes to press.

SPEECH AND DRAMATICS

Curtain Time

As the seconds ticked by, the Speech Department buzzed with the many jobs necessary for any theatrical production. Perhaps the most important of those who staged this year's shows were the prop and lighting men — the men behind the scenes. Under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Egeland and with the cooperation of every speech student, the department was able to participate not only in many theatrical productions but also in various other phases of speech work.

In October the speech class presented "The Little Minister," a three-act play by Sir James M. Barrie, which featured Bob Jenkins in the leading role.

On November 17, the annual Prince of Peace Contest was held in the high school auditorium. Winners were Ed Benedict, Donna Belle Howells and Connie Washka. Connie also tied for first place in the county contest.

In "The Adoration of the Kings and Shepherds," a pageant which was presented for the Christmas assembly, Connie Washka portrayed Mary; Bob Berry, Joseph; and Nancy Sharp, the doorkeeper.

Speech students enjoyed the annual trips to Cleveland to the Karamu and Hanna Theaters and the Cleveland Playhouse.

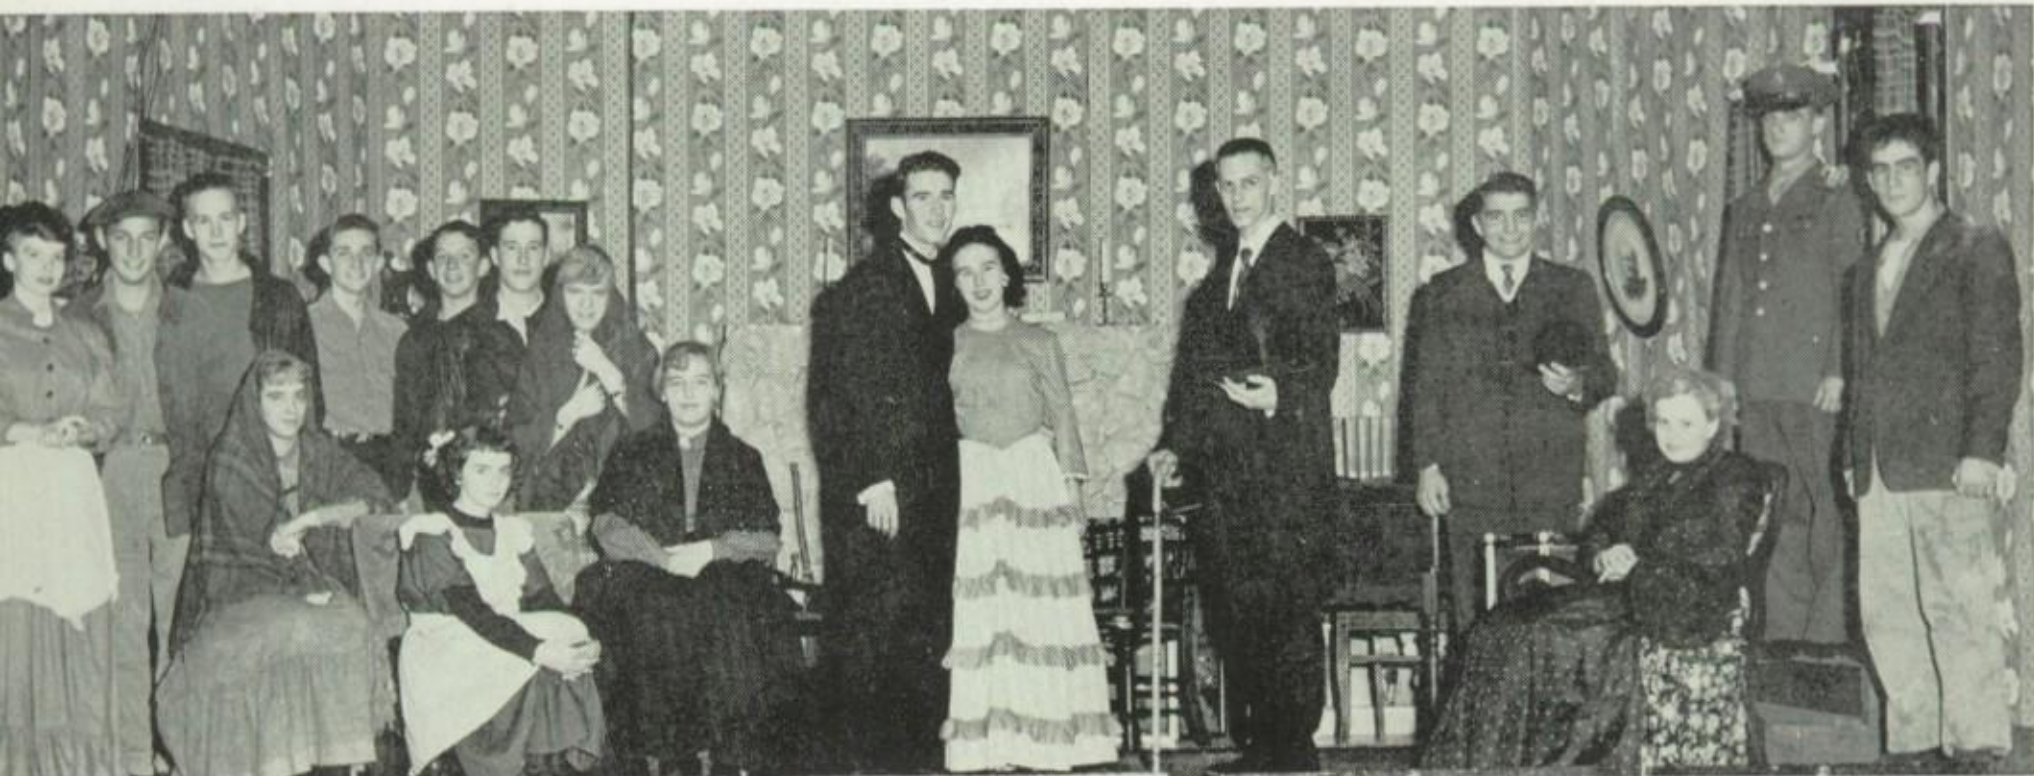

For the March assembly they organized and presented a highly successful Talent Show.

The highlight of the year came in May, when the students who had earned thirty or more credits were initiated into Troupe 730 of the National Thespian Society.

Thursday Morning at Eight

If our school were compared to a giant clock, the Student Council would be known as one of the wheels most important to the smooth running of this huge mechanism. Every Thursday morning, at eight o'clock, Council members meet with Miss Steele to suggest and discuss ideas for improving the school. As a result of these weekly discussions, the Council sponsored many worth-while projects this past year.

Council members improved the appearance of the school building by scraping gum from the floor, cleaning drinking fountains, and providing extra wastebaskets.

The Student Council was responsible for engaging the Downies, gymnastic team, for an assembly program. Council members solicited contributions to CARE and then sent two ten-dollar packages to Korea.

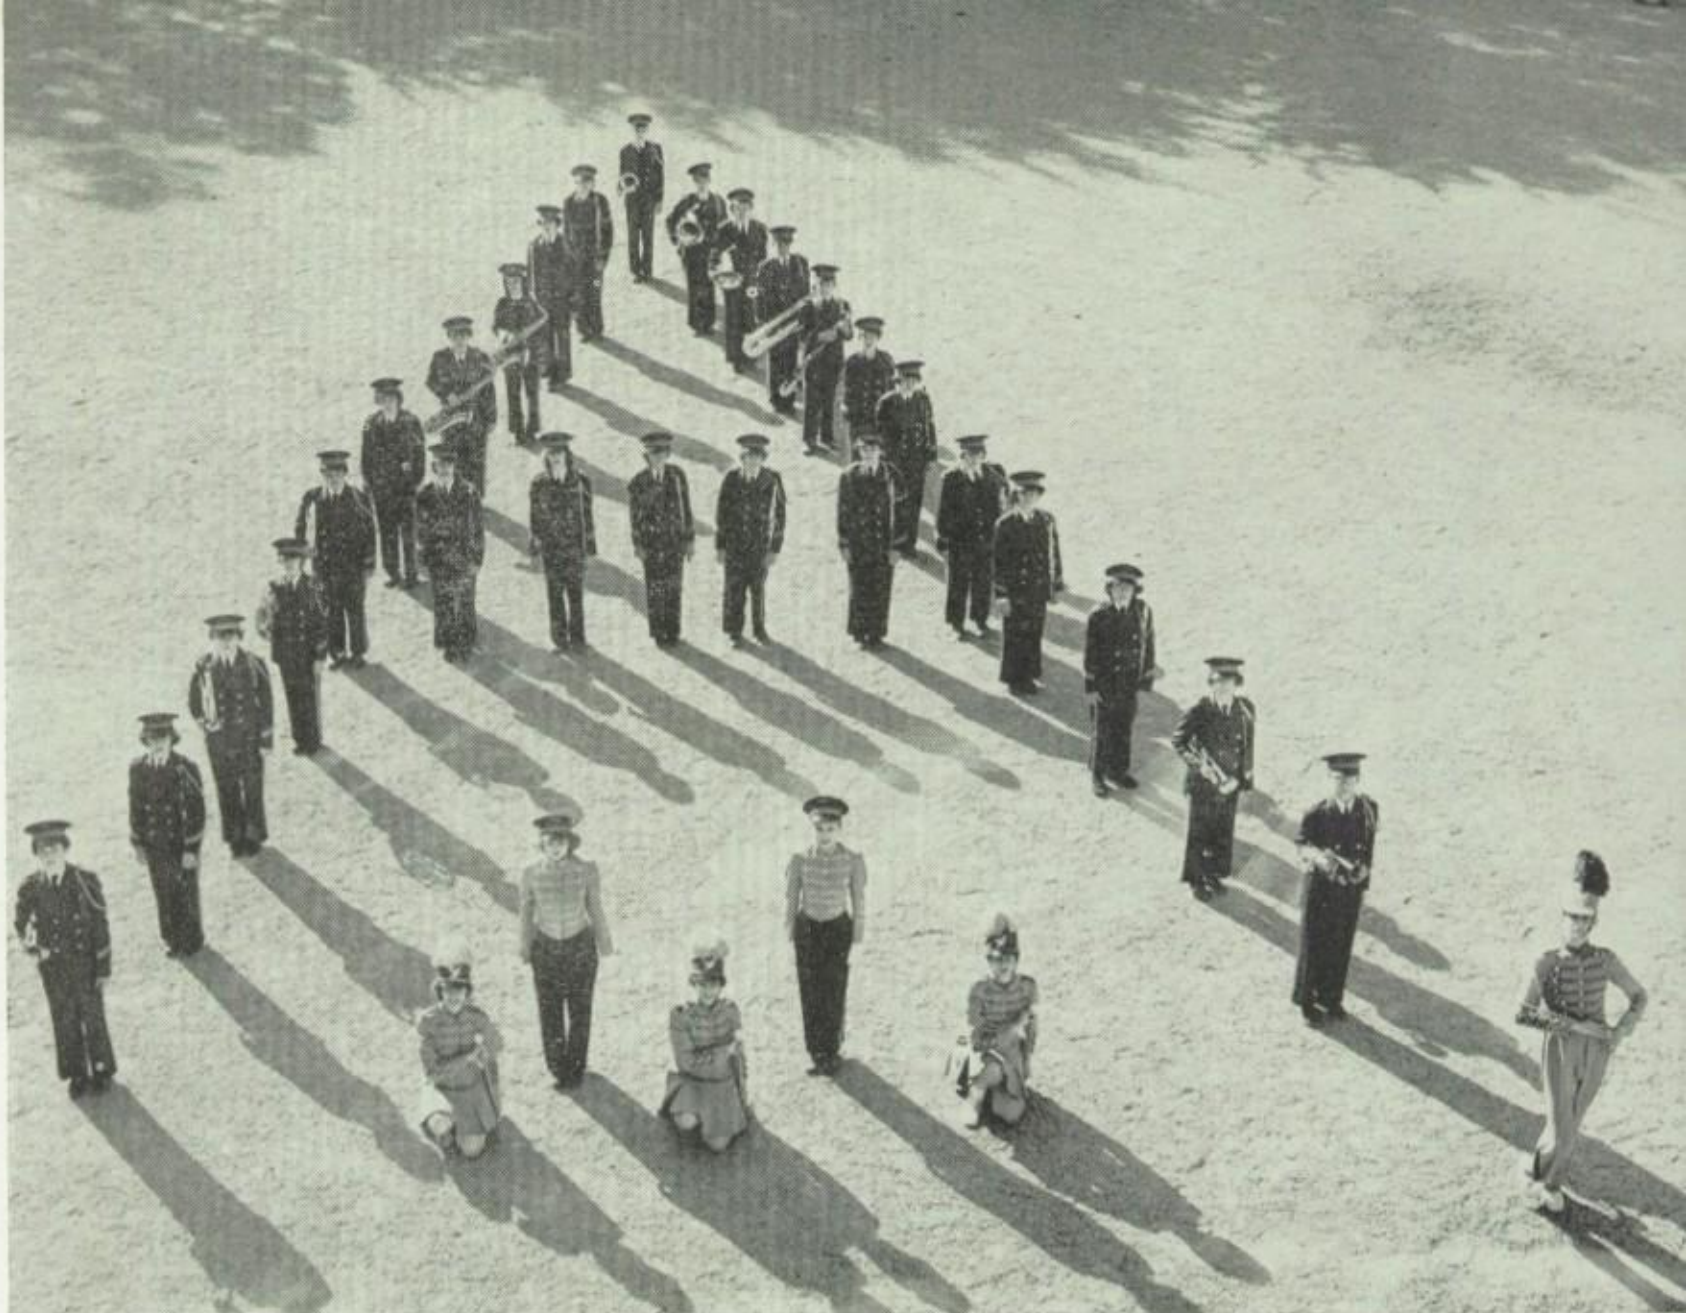

The group also sponsored numerous dances, including the Kick-Off Hop and the Sweetheart Dance.

Council members aided the athletic department in many ways: they decorated the goal posts, sold programs, took tickets, and arranged rallies including the annual bonfire rally. The Council also took charge of both the football and basketball banquets.

As official boosters of all school affairs, Council members were regular patrons at all A. H. S. activities.

Officers were Sherrill Barck, president; Audrey Roth, vice-president; and Jim Latran, secretary-treasurer.

Marching Band

On the Down Beat

Mr. Petersen, director of instrumental music, signaled "Strike Up the Band," and thus began a new season for the Marching Band. Besides playing for assemblies, pep rallies, and civic parades, the band staged many colorful half-time shows during the football season. A special pep band played at the basketball games.

At the spring programs the concert band showed great versatility by playing both classical and popular music. Favorite numbers were "Rhumba Synapata," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Fairest of the Fair March," and "Overture in F."

On March 12, several members of the Concert Band played at the League Band Festival at Oberlin.

In Tempo

If you heard sounds of beautiful music floating up from the music room, you knew that Mrs. Wellman, director of vocal music, was rehearsing with one of the choral clubs. Besides singing for assemblies, the A Cappella Choir and the Boys' and Girls' Choruses presented the Christmas Vesper Service and the Spring Music Festival.

The spring program included "Sleepy River," "Old Abram Brown," "Climb-in' Up the Mountain", and "My God and I", by the A Cappella Choir; "Danse Macabre" and "Donkey Serenade," two-piano selections, by Mrs. Wellman and Albert Pecora; and a skit entitled "Aboard the S. S. Troubadour" by the combined choruses.

The A Cappella Choir had several engagements singing for clubs and church groups. As part of their Christmas celebration the choir enjoyed a supper party and then went caroling at Pleasant View Sanitorium and the Amherst Hospital.

Officers of the choir were Robert Underwood, president; and Sandra Walker, secretary-treasurer.

Studying Current Events

Every Monday afternoon at 3:45, the Quiz Bee team met in the library to be questioned about current events by panel moderator, Miss Steele. The eight news experts were tops in everything from sports to science.

Time and Newsweek magazines provided the answers for such questions as "Who is the Senate majority leader who replaced the late Senator Taft?" and "Who won the British Golf Open?"

Preparing for the Future

Through a planned program of observing teachers and studying their techniques, F. T. A. members gained experience and ideas that helped them when they were called upon many times to substitute for absent teachers.

In October several of the Future Teachers ushered at the N. E. O. T. A. Convention in Cleveland and then attended the F. T. A. luncheon. Other special projects were a trip to the State F. T. A. Convention in the spring and a club dinner party.

Presiding at the noon meetings were Donna Jacopin, president; Connie Washka, vice-president; Doreen Lange, secretary; Felicia Pozniak, treasurer; and Mrs. Dorothea Brown, faculty advisor.

Quelle Heure Est-il?

"C'est Si Bon"—that's Le Cercle Francais. At club meetings members of Le Cercle Francais enjoyed singing "La Seine," "Valentine," "La Vie en Rose," "Paris," "La Marseillaise," and other popular French songs. Programs included talks in French about famous French musicians, artists, scientists, and statesmen; films and travel talks; dramatizations; and word games. Special activities were a flea market typical of the famous Paris flea market, a "the dansant," and a buffet supper.

For initiation first year French students wore "chic chapeaux" and French berets.

At the spring Mardi Gras the medemoiselles and the messieurs dined and danced with the caballeros and senoritas of El Circulo Espanol. The supper menu featured hors d'oeuvres and French pastry, and the program included a dance by Pierrot and Pierrette and a Paris style show.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

At the Spanish Club fiesta, the Circulo Espanol band struck up a gay "Paso Doble" to introduce the mock bull fight; Jack Moskal, as the "charro," and Nancy Elliott, as the "china poblana," danced the Mexican Hat Dance; the Miller "hermanos," Alberto and Joan, played and sang several Latin-American favorites. Other program numbers included dialogues in Spanish. The Spanish part of the Spanish-French supper was "arroz con pollo" (chicken with rice).

At the meetings of El Circulo Espanol the Spanish students sang "Cielito Lindo," "La Cucaracha," and "Amapola"; dramatized stories; and played Spanish games.

For their initiation into the Spanish Club the girls modeled mantillas and carried fans, and the boys wore sombreros and serapes.

Officers of El Circulo Espanol were Connie Washka, president; Lynda Wiegand, vice-president; Nancy Elliott, secretary; and Ed Elliott, treasurer.

Tempus Fugit

"Tempus fugit," an ancient Roman saying, accurately describes the Latin Club and its many activities; for the Romani servi (Roman slaves) and their masters, the sophomores, have had a busy year.

First of their many activities was the initiation of first year students. The youthful students of ancient Rome were compelled to wear slave collars stating "Romana serva sum" ("I am a Roman slave"), and were obliged to bow to their masters, the sophomores.

In November the club enjoyed a theater party to see "The Robe," the technicolor epic of ancient Rome.

Another interesting project of the group was the writing and publishing of a newspaper, the "Romani Hodierni," the "Roman Daily." The entire newspaper written in Latin contained news stories, jokes, poems, and Latin definitions.

In April the club presented an assembly program featuring the history and progress of ancient Rome.

The annual Roman Banquet was really a gala affair. Sophomores dressed in graceful togas and stolas, and the freshmen wore burlap tunics. The sophomore masters reclined as they enjoyed a typical Roman dinner.

Officers of the club were Bob Hasley, praetor; Robert Engle, quaestor; and Judy Schoemig, scriba; and advisor and teacher, Mrs. Thutt, Romana magistra.

What Makes It Tick?

Every Friday noon Science Club members met in the lab for the purpose of finding out what makes things "tick." They enjoyed lunch together, and then watched demonstrations, took part in discussions, or worked on special projects.

The Amherst group is a chartered member of Science Clubs of America. Officers for the past year were Bill McLoda, president; David Drake, vice-president; and Bob Jenkins, secretary-treasurer.

Whose Shift at the Tower Tonight?

During the past year the Amherst Hi-Y Club has been very active in the Y Council. Amherst Hi-Y Club had a good representation at the District 4-A dinner held in Lorain in January. Bob Jenkins represented the group at the Youth and Government Model Legislature in April.

The Amherst Hi-Y is active in the Ground Observer Corps in connection with the Civil Defense Program. Club members aim to live up to the Hi-Y platform of "clean speech, clean living, clean sports, and clean scholarship."

Hi-Y officers were president, Bob Jenkins; vice-president, Kim Brown; secretary, Bob Underwood; treasurer, Ray Troxtell; faculty advisor, Mr. Tousley.
